Information for Autscope, an event run by and for Autistic people

Autscope is going online!

The autistic community's largest annual gathering, Autscope, will be taking place online this year. It would be an excellent opportunity to watch some of the Autistic community's best speakers from the comfort of our homes. As always, Autscope 2020 will be a not-for-profit event, run by autistic volunteers.

Tickets for the online event, which will take place at the end of July, are now available for £20: <https://www.tickettailor.com/events/autscope/369583/>
